NOTES

British Drama

Coward wrote a series of triple bills under the title "Tonight at 8:30" to showcase the talents of himself and Gertrude Lawrence. Some of these playlets were later rewritten as full length plays (notably "Still Life" which became "Brief Encounter"). The three we'll see today are "The Astonished Heart", "Fumed Oak" and "Ways and Means".

Local History

Cornish society in the Victorian period was often held up as an example of sobriety, hard work, temperance and strong religious attitudes. We'll investigate at why this might have been the case and look at some of the political implications, such as the demand for Sunday closing.

Cookery

Jenny is discontinuing the cookery class.

Book Club

The choice this month is "Scenes from Village Life" by Amos Oz, an award winning Israeli author. The book has seven related stories and is set in Israel.

Monthly Meeting

Brendan Hale will talk on the Cornwall Blood Bikes. He'll bring along one of the bikes if you want a selfie.

Margaret's Meander

Here we are at the end of another year of meandering and, as usual, Margaret will be heading to Trelawney Garden Centre, Wadebridge on Tuesday 20th November for coffee, lunch and a browse. Meet up at 11am in the Restaurant.

Italian Conversation

Join us for conversation in frequently stumbling, infrequently fluent but always enthusiastic Italian with a native Italian speaker. Much laughter guaranteed!

Luncheon Club

This month the lunch, the last of 2018, will be at The Roseland Inn, Philleigh

Card Games

Back later in the year when the days draw in and we are glad of some indoor entertainment.

Computer Class (New)

Wood Turning

Valerie will be in contact about the next meeting.
